PEAKS Lace Up Their Gloves To Fight Cancer

Ottawa Three-Piece Presents a Night of Rock n' Roll in Support of the Ottawa Hospital Foundation

Ottawa, ON: Local rock band PEAKS have announced that they will be playing a benefit fundraiser at Live! On Elgin, November 23, featuring the musical talents of co-headliners Sweet and Lowdown (Toronto Fuzz Rock) as well as Calomine (Montreal Rock), Barrington Club Band (Ottawa Lo-Fi) and Sunday Riot Club (Ottawa Heavy Rock). Proceeds from the event will be donated to the Ottawa Hospital Foundation, one of the largest learning and research hospitals in Canada. Entry to the event will be $15.00 and doors will open at 7:00PM.

About the event, PEAKS vocalist Nick Gagné said, "Cancer has touched all of our lives and left its mark. We are steadfast in our resolve to help find a cure, and welcome you to join us ringside as we work to overcome it. We are putting on this benefit to offer a sense of community to those who are being put through their paces. Help us fight cancer."

Donations made to the Ottawa Hospital Foundation go towards pursuing answers to the world's most challenging health care problems. This enables doctors to save lives, provide better care to those in need, and put an end to suffering. By making a donation, you are supporting made-in-Ottawa solutions for a healthier world.
